UpToDate for Mobiles and Offsite

Registration
This process must be done from a computer connected to the SA Health computer network.

Start by visiting the SALUS website at www.salus.sa.gov.au

Click on the UpToDate icon in the Shortcuts box on the right side of the screen.

You will be taken to the UpToDate website.

In the top right corner you should see Welcome, SA Health Library Network. If this is missing your computer is probably not on the SA Health computer network. You should try again on a different computer.

Click the Register button. You will be taken to the registration form.

Fill in the details. You do not have to use a SA Health email address to register.

Make a note of your username and password.

Once you have provided all the needed details click the Submit Registration button.
Click the Accept License button on the Subscription and License Agreement. Click View License to see the license. You can use the back button to accept the license after you have read it.

You will be returned to the UpToDate website. To maintain your access to UpToDate you will need to Log In from a SA Health networked computer every 90 days. You should receive a reminder email from UpToDate about this.

UpToDate Apps on Mobiles
To access UpToDate on your phone visit your app store and search for UpToDate (one word). Your device must be registered to the Australian store.

To access the app, enter the username and password you created while registering and tap Sign In.

Using the Institutional Account link will not work.

UpToDate Access from Home or Offsite Locations
To access UpToDate from home or from an offsite location visit the UpToDate page at www.uptodate.com.

Click on the Log In link in the top right hand corner on the page and login with your UpToDate username and password.

If you have any issues with accessing UpToDate, contact the library and we’ll help you out.
